

Koyodai • Sankodai • Gokodai TREKKING MAP

Enjoy the majesty of Mount Fuji seen from the Tokai Nature Trail.

The course through Koyodai, Sankodai, and Gokodai is ideal for family hikers seeking a gentle trail across the mountains. The Tokai Nature Trail links Tokyo's Meiji no Mori Takao Quasi-National Park and Osaka's Meiji no Mori Mino Quasi-National Park. The trail is 1,343 km long and winds through the natural scenery of Tokyo, Kanagawa, Yamanashi, Shizuoka, Aichi, Gifu, Mie, Shiga, Kyoto, Nara, and Osaka Prefectures. Within that route, the course mentioned above is particularly rich in excellent views, so it was first created as a model route during the inception of the trail.

Tokai Nature Trail

Fall Foliage Information

Fall foliage is best enjoyed between late October and mid-November.

Koyodai 1,164m

This spot gives sweeping views of Mount Fuji and the sea of trees in Aokigahara. A 360 degree panorama of nature unfurls before you, letting you see sights such as Lake Motosu and Lake Saiko. The view is guaranteed to move you!

Sankodai 1,202m

This spot is located twenty minutes' walk from Koyodai and allows you to see the three lakes. The spacious plaza is widely used by excursion and tour groups as a rest stop.

Odawa-Ippongi

Ippongi Bus stop

139

The entrance is a screen door, so open it to enter. Always remember to close the screen.

Manyo-no-kahi

Fujikawaguchiko Tourist information center
☎ 0555-72-6700

Hyoketsu Bus stop

Lake Motosu -ko

Narusawa Hyoketsu (Ibe cave)

Gokodai 1,355m

One hour's walk from Sankodai is Gokodai, an observation deck built from logs. Breathe in the refreshing air while you gaze out at Mount Fuji.

If coming by bus, you can board a bus bound for Lake Motosu (Motosuko) at Kawaguchi-ko Station and disembark at the Koyodai entrance.
Fujikyu yamanashi bus Co.,Ltd ☎ 0555-72-6877

Caution!

- ※Some of the wooden steps may be loose, so please exercise caution when walking the path.
- ※Some paths may fork. One of the paths is used for maintaining the route. If the steps on the regular path look dangerous, please use the wider maintenance route.